THE Ohio statesmen belonging to the dominant party in the Legislature made all arrangements to attend the inauguration in a body, assuming that the railroads would furnish them free transportation. They were mistaken; the railroads refused, and the statesmen have got to pay their fare just like other common people, or stay away from the show. We are inclined to exclaim in this case: "Bully for the railroads!"

MR. CLEVELAND recently confessed that he had never heard of ex-Governor Jarvis of North Carolina, whereupon the Philadelphia Press remarked that Mr. Cleveland has thereby "missed knowing one of the straightest, squarest and most capable men in the whole Southern Democracy." That seems to have been the difficulty in the case. It's the other class of fellows who generally get themselves "boomed" in the newspapers and pushed forward by blowers and strikers.

A DELICATE and beautiful thought about death is that of Annie Barbauld:

We've been long together,
Through pleasant and through stormy weather.
'Tis hard to part when friends are dear—
Perhaps 't cost a sigh, a tear.
Then steal away, give little warning;
Choose thine own time;
Say not "Good night," but in some better clime
Bid me "Good morning."

The sad and gloomy idea of parting with friends on earth, which is usually placed uppermost, is here made subordinate to the grander, more cheerful and glorious idea of meeting them beyond the River.

UNDER the new regulations it will be almost as difficult for the general visitor to attend a session of Parliament as to get into the monument ceremonies in our own halls of Congress, remarks the Washington Star. Even members of Parliament will not be able to take a friend into the lobby, but must send the name of the friend to whom they wish to extend such a courtesy to the Speaker, who will thereupon cause the character of the person to be examined by a staff of detectives. If, after a week's secret examination, there is found to be nothing suspicious about the stranger, then, and not before, he will be admitted. All this looks as if somebody was pretty badly scared.

CAPTAIN STUART STANLEY, late of the Royal Engineers, British army—whose excellent letters to the TIMES, some weeks ago, on the situation in the Soudan, will be remembered by our readers—has been delivering a lecture on the geography, history, religion and politics of the Soudan, before the pupils of the San Diego Russ School. Captain Stanley speaks by the card on these matters, having had extensive personal experience in the country which he describes. He participated in the battle of Tel-el-Kebir, and left the Soudan only last August. At this time, when the world's attention is turned with full focus upon the Soudan, the words of an eye-witness, who can outline graphically the causes, objects and methods of the Egyptian war, are of wide interest. If the Captain could be induced to give a lecture of this instructive sort before the pupils—and the grown folks, for that matter—of Los Angeles, it ought to be of decided benefit, and would doubtless prove popular.

"Gath's" Philosophy.

(Cincinnati Enquirer.)

The great trouble with our modern life is that nobody is content to live in straits. We had rather have a bank account and get drunk every day than live simply and live out our natural days. We like to button-hole men under lamp-posts and tell them how rich we are. If we had the true pride of republican citizens, our honest poverty would be our boast. These things which decorate life are pleasant to have, but if they enslave us, where is the real satisfaction and victory?

I often think when I look around my library, which I have been at some pains to collect, that I would be a stronger man if I had no books atall, but read every day the book of human nature. We depend too much on the little perishable things which paint life up and enchain the heart and brain. The two great men in our history, Washington and Lincoln, were not men of very extensive reading. They never fired off guns to show how much circulation they had. One of them wandered around among Indians with an old telescope and tripod, now and then bitten by snakes, and generally bitten by fleas. That was Washington. The other weighed out brown sugar by the half pound for people with one boot and no stocking. He did not hoist on the top of his store the sign: "We have one hundred thousand customers at this shop." At that day such silly boasting would have made his honest neighbors walk ten miles to buy from another kind of man.

REPORT OF THE STATE CONTROLLER.

Trying to Help Out the California and Oregon Railway—Other Doings at the State Capital.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20.—A meeting of the Finance Committee of the Senate was held at the recess to-day, at which it was agreed to make a favorable report upon the Heath amendment, taxing railroad property. It is designed to take the amendment up out of order and pass it at once, so that it may go to the Governor in time to prevent his pocketing it. The Executive has ten days in which to sign the bill and must then return it to the House. If the ten days expire and the Legislature adjourns, he can veto the bill and no opportunity will be presented to pass it over his veto.

CONTROLLER DUNN'S REPORT.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20.—Controller Dunn to-day made a report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction of the condition of the State school fund as follows: State bonds, $1,737,500; county bonds, $364,400; total, $2,101,900. Amount to be distributed to counties of the State, $1,469,696.11. This is about $36,000 less than that appropriated last year, $29,000 of the shortage being on account of Contra Costa and San Diego not settling with the State because of the recent trouble in the Treasurer's office.

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20.—In the Senate this morning the special order was Slater's bill to establish another Normal School in northern California.

Hurlburt moved to recommit the bill defining the boundary line between Lake and Mendocino counties, on the ground that he had some evidence to offer against the bill.

Reddy's resolution protesting against the stoppage of silver coinage was adopted, after an amendment, by Cross was inserted protesting against the demonetization of silver.

A message was received from the Assembly announcing the passage of Day's substitute school text-book bill.

The Assembly amendments were concurred in, and the bill ordered engrossed and sent to the Governor.

Spencer of Stanislaus introduced a bill increasing the salary of the State Printer from $2400 to $3000 a year.

Recess.

In the Senate this afternoon the bill to establish a Home for Adult Blind and appropriating $400,000, was passed—ayes, 26; noes 9.

Bill No. 210 was taken up when the irrigation hour arrived and was discussed without any action whatever.

The Senate held a three hours' session to-night for work on the first reading of the file. Among the bills read a first time was the Heath constitutional amendment, so that there is a prospect of a fight on its second reading taking place to-morrow.

Senate bill No. 213, was taken up out of order and read. This is the bill prepared with the intention to give the Attorney General power to examine the accounts of any savings bank, for the purpose of discovering what, if any, moneys therein have escheated to the State.

Another bill taken up out of order and read the first time to-night by a vote of 18 to 5 was the Creighton bill, providing for the payment of the members and attaches of the constitutional convention amounting to $167,000.

Knight moved that when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Tuesday next out of respect to the memory of George Washington. Lost—Ayes, 6; noes, 20.

Assembly.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20.—The Assembly met at 10 a. m.

Watson, of Alameda, of the Committee on Silk Culture reported back, with a recommendation that it do not pass, a message providing for the establishment of cocooneries throughout the State.

McLean presented an amendment to the rules prohibiting members from speaking more than twice on the same subject, and requiring them to set down when they get through speaking.

A resolution by Roseberry, requesting the Surveyor General to file with the House a full list of delinquent State lands was adopted.

Hazard's bill providing for the appointment of a Supreme Court Commission was amended to provide for the appointment of three commissioners for four years, instead of five for two years, and fixing the appropriation to maintain the commission for two years at $40,000 and was read a second time.

A resolution by Coleman that when the House adjourned it do so in honor of the memory of the late Hon. J. S. Satterwhite was adopted.

Yule's bill providing for the appropriation of $40,000 for the establishment of a branch of the State Normal School in Shasta county was returned by the Senate, amended by the substitution of "Northern California" for "Shasta county."

Yule moved that the House maintain its dignity by refusing to concur in the amendment, and that a committee of conference be appointed to endeavor to secure the passage by the Senate of the original bill.

While a lively tilt was being had between Yule and representatives of other northern counties, a message was received from the Senate asking that the bill be returned, which was ordered.

A number of bills providing for deficiencies of the present administration were passed to a third reading.

Recess.

The Assembly reconvened at 2 p. m.

Surveyor-General Willey, in reply to a resolution asking that he file with the House a statement of all unearned land grants, filed a communication stating that it would take the entire force of his office one month to prepare the statement, and suggested that his regular report would be ready by May 1st.

Munday's concurrent resolution calling upon Congress to pass the measure requiring all railroad corporations to forfeit their unearned land grants was called as the special order. Munday explained the object of the resolution to be to cause the railroads to forfeit their unearned land grants in order that they might be taken up by actual settlers. There are 70,

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1885.

The English in Egypt.

Pounds, shillings and pence are at the root of the bloody struggle in the Soudan. That is the prime fact in the case, and any intelligent discussion of the situation must be bottomed on this cold proposition. England has Egypt on her hands, and the load is heavy. In the light of recent disasters, it begins to look as though Britain was in a predicament somewhat similar to the boy with the bear: he couldn't hold on, and was afraid to let go. (We believe we have employed this beautiful figure before, but it is still good.)

Englishmen invested heavily in Egyptian bonds, and to secure her subjects from loss at the hands of a bankrupt government, England interfered, occupied the country and began the war. The inexcusable bombardment of Alexandria by British ships initiated the conflict. It was an act disgraceful to a great and civilized nation. It was not the original intention to conquer the Soudan country; in fact, that intention was expressly disclaimed by the ministry. But those coupons must be paid; that was England's ultimatum to the Khedive's government. The British bondholders must have coin, or the British bulldog would demand blood. Hence the British battalions were set in motion towards the Nile. Turkey, to which Egypt nominally belongs, should have been held responsible, but it was not the policy to make war on "the sick man of the East." Europe was interested in keeping the balance of power undisturbed, and England could not "move on the works" of the Sultan without incurring the opposition of more than one powerful neighbor. Hence Turkey was let alone and Egypt attacked. The Sublime Porte pusillanimously suffered its Egyptian territory to be invaded by the Briton, and the Khedive to be converted into a puppet in the hands of the "protectors." But, notwithstanding England's awkward and embarrassing predicament in the East, the war will go on, for the British bulldog rarely lets go his grip when he once gets his teeth in. The simple natives, who are already ground down below the tax-paying point, will be still further oppressed, whipped, and well nigh exterminated, perhaps; and if the bondholders are not then paid, England will appropriate the fat lands of the Nile valley (when she has conquered them) to reimburse herself for the ex[illegible] campaign, standing off her jealous neighbors as best she can by concessions and promises.

If it were any other country than England that was doing this business, the question asked by the Washington Star might have more pertinence. Really, what have the English to do with the Soudan? Gordon went to Khartoum to protect the garrison, but he and they are slaughtered. Wolseley was sent to relieve Gordon, but he started too late. Is it to be understood that we are now to have a war of revenge, or of glory, or of commerce? A few months ago the ministry expressly disclaimed any intention of conquering the Soudan. Now the cry is to "Smash the Mahdi!" The clamor for revenge is a natural one, but, after all, will it bear the cool scrutiny of reason? Revenge is often a costly luxury. It bids fair to be in the present case. Possibly the Mahdi won't be smashed.

The causes and origin of the war are so succinctly summed up by the Indianapolis Journal in the following sketch that we copy it entire:

The origin of the present Egyptian campaign dates from the reign of Ismail Pasha, a shrewd and unscrupulous intriguer, who succeeded Said Pasha in 1863, and accumulated a fortune from the exportation of cotton during our civil war. This money he lavished on Turkish officers till he soon found himself a favorite with the Sultan and endowed with almost regal power. He had been educated in Paris, and his ambition was to Europeanize Egypt and make Cairo the Paris of the east. To accomplish this purpose he borrowed money by the million at the most exorbitant rates of interest. This money was not devoted to national purposes, but was expended in Oriental display, in bribing favorite friends of the Sultan in Constantinople, in covering Egypt with palaces, and stocking harems. The fellaheen, or native population were robbed to pay the interest on these debts, from which they derived no benefit, and which they had no share in contracting, and, when the money could not be raised, the Khedive's tax-gatherers used to surround the villages, catch the inhabitants, and ply the bastinado till the taxes were paid.

At last things came to such a pass that Ismail could borrow no more money and the fellaheen could pay no more taxes. In the interest of the bondholders, mostly English and French, Ismail was deposed, and his son, the present ruler, made Khedive. To secure payment on these bonds a joint or dual control was established over Egyptian finances by England and France. Sir Rivers Wilson, the English representative, dismissed from public employment all the native Egyptian officials, and flooded the country with a swarm of hungry English officials, who knew nothing about Egypt save that it owed them exorbitant salaries. A spirit of disaffection soon manifested itself, and a national party was formed, headed by Arabi Pasha, an officer of the army. A brawl occurred in the streets of Alexandria, which was magnified by the English press into a wholesale massacre, and measures were taken by the English government to suppress the Egyptian national party, now in incipient rebellion against the Khedive, who was only a puppet in the hands of his English and French masters. France refused to co-operate with England in suppressing the rebellion, and the latter resolved to act alone. Admiral Seymour bombarded Alexandria, and Wolseley, passing through the Suez canal, met the Egyptian army at Tel-el-Kebir, defeated it and captured Arabi Pashi, who was banished to Ceylon.

Meantime the Arabs of the Soudan—an immense tract of country comprising Kordofan, Nubia proper, Sennar and Toka on the east, and some Nile districts further south—under the leadership of El Mahdi, the false prophet, had risen in rebellion against Egyptian rule and held the Egyptian garrisons [illegible] gradually annexed since 1821, but was never reduced to complete subjection. It was the center of the great African slave trade, which had always been monopolized by the Arabs, and which was partially broken up by Sir Samuel Baker and General Gordon, in the service of the Khedive, some years before. England having undertaken to restore order in Egypt, now found herself compelled to liberate the Egyptian garrisons and suppress the Mahdi's rebellion. The Arabs, on the other hand, were instigated to resistance under the impulses of patriotism, religious fanaticism and the profits of slave catching.

Divorce Reform.

The Ohio Divorce Reform League is doing a good work in its efforts to arouse the moral sense of community in regard to divorce. Its first annual meeting was recently held in Columbus, and it was a meeting full of conspicuous encouragement to those who recognize the sanctity of the marriage relation, and are opposed to the looseness of the State 'statutes in regard to divorce. This Reform League during the past year has been active in the work of circulating documents and newspapers containing information in regard to the alarming increase of divorces and calculated to arouse public feeling to a sense of the necessity for some decided action to stay this evil which threatens so many homes.

At this meeting a resolution was unanimously adopted suggesting to the Legislature of the State, some of whose members were present, the three following specific measures of legislation:

1. To expunge from the statute that indeterminate clause by which divorce may be granted for "any gross neglect of duty," and to forbid by statute the immediate remarriage of the guilty partner in cases of divorce. 2. To provide by appropriate legislation for the defense of all divorce cases—counsel for this purpose being designated by the court. 3. To request the Governor to appoint a commissioner to represent the State in an inter-State commission for the preparation of a uniform system of divorce laws, to be submitted to the several Legislatures; and also, through the Governor, to invite the Legislatures of other States to take similar action.

This movement is a hopeful sign for the future, and should produce practical results in restraining the frequency of divorce, and it is a matter to the importance of which the good citizens of every State should be alive.

The looseness of our divorce systems is hardly less evil in its demoralizing tendency than the iniquities of Mormonism. It needs a sharp legal pruning knife, and a powerful, active popular sentiment to deal with and eradicate it.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.) of February 13th, has the following suggestive head-lines to one of its articles, which looks as if all was not serene in the party of "reform" and good government: "Danger Ahead—A Precipice in Mr. Cleveland's Path, Says an Unnamed but Sagacious and Observing Politician—Painted Upon its Brow is 'G. P.—Civil Service Reform—1882'—'Tis the Voice of the Office-seeker, I Hear Him Complain."

Already the lank spectre of Fear haunts the ranks of the hungry office-seekers of the Democratic party. What will Democratic triumph be worth to them after twenty-four years of waiting, if they are not to be rewarded with the spoils?

THE Texas-Pacific land-grant forfeiture bill passed the House with but one dissenting vote, and the Senate (on Thursday last) with but two dissenting votes. It now goes back to the House for concurrence in same amendments made by the Senate, and will without doubt become a law.

It was not until the services were over that she discovered from the conversation about her that she had been sitting all this time in a Methodist church instead of her own Baptist sanctuary. And now it makes her warm to ask her what she goes to church for, anyhow.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

PASADENA.

WEEKLY NEWS BUDGET FROM OUR FLOURISHING SUBURB.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

PASADENA, Feb. 19.—Fruit trees are blossoming, and it is a matter of surprise as well as interest to tourists to see upon our orange, lemon and lime trees ripe fruit and fragrant blossoms at the same time.

Preparations for the Cirus Fair are progressing successfully, and everything favors an exhibit never before equaled in this land of plenty and surprises.

We hear many words of commendation for the improvements being made upon our highways. Much credit is due Road Overseer Brown for the work thus far accomplished. Mr. B. S. Eaton of South Pasadena also deserves more than a vote of thanks.

There will be a dramatic and musical entertainment at the Sierra Madre College next week for the purpose of increasing the fund already raised to carry on the improvements to the road between Pasadena and Los Angeles.

Mr. A. F. Burrows, the successful and prosperous representative of a prominent Pittsburg, Penn., glass manufactory, is spending a time at his home in Pasadena. He proposes to make quite extensive improvements on his property here.

Still the English general continues to capture some of our finest property. This time it is the elegant house, with several desirable lots, owned by H. W. Magee, Esq., on Marengo avenue.

Mr. Magee, not to be left for a day even, has purchased the splendid tract of thirty-five acres extending from Fair Oaks to Orange Grove avenues and owned by Mr. Josiah Locke, of Indianapolis.

Mr. C. C. Stickle, the new proprietor of the Webster Hotel, is recently from Minneapolis, Minn. He is an experienced hotel man. J.

ALHAMBRA.

NOTES OF PROGRESS.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

SAN GABRIEL, Feb. 19.—For years the Alhambra tract has been modestly content to be known only as a part of San Gabriel. But one by one the outlying districts are asserting their independence of the Mission, and this winter, in consequence of the rapid growth and prosperty of the tract, Alhambra has become recognized as a distinct settlement.

It is eight miles east of Los Angeles on the S. P. R. R., and lies south of the properties of Mr. H. B. Bacon, Gov. George Stoneman and Col. E. L. Mayberry, and west of the San Gabriel Mission. It includes nearly 2800 acres, nearly all of which is improved.

The first move toward a village was made by a prominent citizen, who bought some land near the center of the tract that the owner, a non-resident, was intending to set to vines, and subdivided it into small lots, which sold like hot cakes. Then Mr. H. W. Stanton erected a large two-story building on his property, corner Garfield avenue and Boabdil street. The corner story being occupied as a store, while the second floor is fitted up for a hall with stage, dressing rooms, etc., thus supplying a "long felt want" in the community. The adjacent land has been laid off into village lots, nearly all of which have been sold.

Aside from its proximity to Los Angeles Alhambra presents many advantages to persons seeking a home with a few acres of ground. Its railroad is not a branch road, but the Southern Pacific, bringing two daily mails. The track runs one block south of Stanton's store, where a Los Angeles firm will soon start a lumber yard. There is not a better wagon road in the county than the one between Alhambra and Los Angeles. It has no heavy grades, is well turn-piked, and can be traveled with ease every day in the year. Abundant living water for the settlement is brought in iron pipes from the adjacent foothills, and it is owned and controlled by the residents. Alhambra fruit is so well known that it needs but a passing notice. Citrus and deciducus fruits thrive equally well. Nearly all the Cuthbert raspberries sold in Los Angeles last summer were raised in this vicinity, having been introduced here by Mr. G. B. Adams. This winter the demand for Washington Navel and Mandarin oranges has exceeded the supply. There are three fruit-dryers at Alhambra, thus affording growers an opportunity to dispose of their fruit at home.

A Methodist Episcopal church is centrally located here, with Rev. G. W. White as pastor. There are two excellent public schools under the direction of Professor S. Shaw and Miss Anna Phelan; also, a private school taught by Miss Stoneman, sister of the Governor.

During the past few months the fine residences of Messrs. F. Q. Story and J. Bryson have been completed, W. H. Taylor has built a pleasant residence on his Boabdil-street property, R. F. Bishop has made a large addition to his house, Miss Adams has built two tasteful cottages, the house of S. L. Page and the M. E. parsonage have been refitted, H. W. Stanton has put up a blacksmith shop and E. F. Adams a real estate office, and Judge Hereford and Mr. Coffin have neat, roomy cottages under way.

Alhambra is soon to have a postoffice.

Rev. G. W. White preached at Azusa last Sunday, and his pulpit was occupied by Rev. Dr. Fiske of Newburyport, Massachusetts, a guest of Mr. R. F. Bishop.

F. Q. Story and B. Johnston have purchased lots in Stanton's subdivision.

C. T. Adams has sold his house and two acres on Boabdil street to Mrs. Florence Williams for $2200. Mrs. Williams will open a boarding house on the premises.

A number of Rev. G. W. White's parishioners, having learned that his twenty-eighth birthday was at hand, took the M. E. Parsonage by storm Wednesday night, and spent a pleasant evening, leaving substantial evidences of their respect and good-will. S.

A HORSE AND BUGGY VANISH.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

ORANGE, Feb. 19.—The Santiago teacher, Mr. Chandler, was not able to begin school last Monday and is still poorly.

Orange school, with its corps of three teachers, opened on Monday, the 16th instant.

Mr. Burch, of the firm of Burch & Boal, in company with Mr. Rhodes, of Ohio, made a flying visit among friends in this place not long since.

Sunday evening, the 15th, during service at the Christian Church, a horse and buggy, hitched at a post there, disappeared, and the owner, Mr. Martin, is not able to get any trace of them. The loss is $325.

The ladies of the Methodist Church will celebrate Washington's birthday, on the 23d, by giving a Martha Washington tea party, with an appropriate programme, at Good Templars' Hall. Those taking part in the exercises will be dressed in costumes of "Ye old folks." A.

A Great Mind.

From the Toledo Commercial Telegram.]

Mr. Cleveland says, artlessly, that he has noticed that whenever he has exerted himself to say what he means "in a plain and simple way," using easy words and few of them, "the people remember what I say, and repeat the phrases among themselves, over and over again." He says his letter of resignation is a specimen of this sort of condensed and simple style, and that "he studied a long time" over the question whether he would not omit the word "hereby" as superfluous.

It is pleasing to contemplate the movements of this Massive Mind, as its possessor points out its workings and explains its processes to the common people. We venture to suggest that perhaps the immortal resignation itself has not been more "repeated over and over" among the people than the felicitous declaration that the office of President is "essentially executive."

"Are you sure you are converted?" said Mr. Spurgeon to a devout housemaid. "Please, sir, I think I am, for I sweeps under the beds." Her test was a sound one.

A Paradise for Homes!

An opportunity not equaled in Southern California to secure ten or more acres of the choicest land in Los Angeles county, with water right, is now offered to the public at prices, to those desiring to improve, fully forty per cent. lower than land similarly located.

THE PHILLIPS TRACT,

Of two thousand acres, all the finest sandy loam soil. Climate unsurpassed and location specially adapted to the orange and lemon; also elegant for vineyards. The character of the soil is such that all kinds of deciduous fruits and vines grow luxuriantly without irrigation. This fine body of land must be seen to be appreciated. It is located

Five Miles from Puente Station,

On the Southern Pacific Railroad, and eight miles west of Pomona, in a lovely, healthful valley, sheltered by the lofty Sierra Madres on the north, gently sloping south and west, and entirely free from fogs and frosts. This fine body of land has recently been subdivided by the owner and placed on the market by the undersigned in at prices ranging from sixty-five to one hundred dollars per acre, including ten shares of water stock with each ten acres. The terms will be made reasonable to parties purchasing and improving. There has also been

A Town Located on the Land,

Named "COVINA," and quite a number of lots already sold. The price for lots, 60x175, at present being fifty dollars. A good school has been established on the tract. Parties desiring to see this land can be provided with conveyance from Puente Station. Broad avenues are laid out through the tract. Notice to the Public.

I TAKE THIS METHOD OF INFORMING the public, and especially those interested as policy-holders in fire insurance, of the just, equitable and prompt manner in which the

Phœnix & Home Insurance Companies,

Through their agents,

MILES BROTHERS,

of this city, have settled and paid in full the loss sustained by me in the fire which occurred at the Boyle Heights Hotel on Saturday night last. It gives me pleasure to make this public announcement, commending to the insurance public the Phœnix and Home Fire Insurance Companies, and to give evidence of the fact of their stability and high standing in face of the calumny so freely circulated by representatives of some companies composing the so-called "compact," with which monopoly the Phœnix and Home Insurance Companies are not connected.

THE ANTELOPE VALLEY.

The New Oasis on the Edge of the Mojave Desert.

Several readers having addressed the TIMES for information regarding the Antelope Valley, a reporter has been pursuing the desired facts, and hands them over herewith.

The valley is situated about due north of Los Angeles, and is distant about thirty-five miles in a straight line. By rail, however, it is about eighty miles from this point, owing to the enormous elbow made by the railroad to get through the Soledad Cañon. The main line of the S. P. R. R. runs through the valley from north to south, Lancaster being the chief station therein. The dimensions of the valley are about forty miles east and west, and about twenty-five north and south. The valley is a natural basin, without outlet, and with several sizable streams emptying into it, where they disappear. The Piute Indians have a legend that when their forefathers dwelt around the edges of the valley, the center was occupied by a great lake—and this was in all probability true at one time. The valley now seems to be underlaid with abundant water. Mr. M. L. Wicks of this city, who has purchased extensively in the valley, states that he can take ten sections of land in one spot and get water anywhere thereon by sinking six feet. He also states that the average depth of the surface wells in the valley is 24 feet. The deepest is 140 feet; and there are many of only 4 feet. Upon the sloping sides of the valley the soil is deeper—in some places 30 and 40 feet before striking hard-pan, and the wells are necessarily deeper than those in the lower valley. Still, water is procurable everywhere by wells of moderate depth. There are seven artesian wells in the valley, and this number will increase rapidly. One can be put down complete for between $300 and $400. The last artesian well put down by Mr. Wicks is 235 feet in depth, with double iron casing, yields 400,000 gallons every twenty-four hours, and cost $371, including $20 for extra pumping to remove sand. This well lies in the bottom of the valley, six miles due west of Lancaster. Three miles west of it, again, Dr. Joseph Kurtz of this city is having an artesian well sunk upon his place—which covers one and a half sections of railroad and ne and a half sections of Government and. Drs. DeSzigethy and Reed, Mr. D. McFarland, and other Angeleños also have extensive interests in the valley. Mr. McFarland raised there, last season, the finest wheat the reporter has ever seen anywhere, and this in spite of the fact that rust was prevalent in the wheat almost everywhere else.

Among the settlements which are rapidly springing up in the valley may be mentioned the Iowa colony of six families, located twenty-five miles west from the railroad and adjoining the Lievre Rancho of ex-Surveyor-General Beal, the Yorkshire (English) colony of fift persons, and a Scotch colony near this The good lands are by no means all taken. Much fine government land is now available, previous claims having been canceled for non-compliance. There are 6000 acres of good land, as yet untouched, 6 miles east by south from Lancaster. In the Wild Horse prairie there are many thousand more. An irrigating ditch with a capacity of 8000 acres is now being brought out into the latter tract. Absolute right for water is sold at $4 per acre. There is sufficient irrigating water now running into the valley to supply 40,000 acres; and there are many springs in the hills to the east.

As noted in the TIMES not long ago, there is a movement on foot to bring an irrigating ditch into the valley from Elizabeth Lake. The price of railroad land in the valley is from $2.50 to $6 per acre. Southeast and southwest of Lancaster lies a large area of unsurveyed government land, furnishing ample pasturage, with surface water. On the mountains which wall the valley on the southwest is abundant pine timber. There is also plenty on the Tehachepi range, which is the north boundary of the valley. There is a sawmill in the latter vicinity, 16 miles from the Yorkshire colony, where lumber can be bought at $16 per M. In the valley there is plenty of fuel in the shape of black sage and cedar, while the cañons furnish pine. Antelope and wild horses are seen in large bands, and two men claim to have killed twenty-seven deer in four days at Christmas time. All fruits save the citrus do finely, and all grains are remarkably successful. Mr. Cole, son of ex-United States Senator Cornelius Cole, states that his olive trees have made unprecedented progress there.

The general altitude of the valley is something over 2,000 feet, and the temperature is said to average about ten degrees colder, the year round, than that of Los Angeles. Jesse Hunter, who has been in that vicinity for sixteen years, states that the annual rainfall is somewhat heavier than in this city. Only one fog has been known there in three years.

The foregoing information having been given, the best authority for interested parties to consult is to go and look for themselves.

THE DOORSTEP DARLING.

A Grass-Widow's Heartless Desertion of Her Young Babe.

The abandoned boy baby found Thursday morning upon the doorstep Mr. H. T. Payne (and not on that of Rev. A. J. Wells, as mistakenly reported,) has had its little mystery unraveled sooner than was expected.

About a month ago a handsome young woman giving her name as Mrs. Leal engaged accommodations at the private boarding-house of Mrs. M. Hatfield, 338 Hill street, stating that her husband was a traveling salesman in Arizona and would be here soon. Her mother soon took quarters with her. Mrs. Leal said that she was 23 years of age, but she looked younger. She was approaching confinement, and engaged a Mrs. Lamb as nurse. The babe was born and flourished, and the mother recuperated, but the father did not put in an appearance. It is stated by occupants of the house that Mrs. Leal's actions while there were a trifle odd, and that some suspected that she wished to rid herself of the child. Wednesday Mrs. Leal stated that she was going with her mother and babe to Arizona next day to join her husband; and that they would leave the house early in the morning, as they had been invited out to breakfast. She went out shopping with Mrs. Hatfield that afternoon, and purchased a blanket at Hale's "to wrap the Baby Bunting in." Next morning (Thursday) Mrs. Leal and her mother departed early, with the baby. A few hours later, Mrs. Hatfield noticed the item in the TIMES; and having her suspicions aroused, went over with Mrs. Lamb (the nurse) to see the foundling. They recognized the child at once as the Leal baby, and the blanket as that purchased by Mrs. Leal. The recreant mother, however, appears to have been a little foxy. A letter has been received by Mrs. Lamb from her, mailed after leaving this city, stating that she was getting along well, and that the baby stood the trip all right, was doing very nicely and behaving well. But this clever "blind" did not fool anyone. The child was given over by Mr. Petry—who found it—to his sister-in-law, who is already much attached to it, and vows it shall never leave her save for the cemetery.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The amateur dramatic entertainment given by the Pasadena Dramatic Club last evening at the Grand Opera House attracted an audience which filled the building to overflowing, the audience being one of the largest that has ever assembled to witness an entertainment in this city. The play was the Afflicted Family, which was presented with the following cast:

C. Crochet, a retired merchant, sick in the spleen........................L. C. Hawkey
B. Frizzy, a barber, addicted to pains and scrapes........................Louis Hutman
Dr. G. Linton, a physician, troubled with patients........................C. B. Ripley
L. Staple, a bashful young merchant........................F. Bruce Wetherby
Clarence, a student, inclined to all........................J. D. Ripley
John Henry, a servant with nothing to do........................Will C. Defriez
J. Seezer, a constable, used to taking bad effects........................James Clark
Mrs. Crochet, an invalid with nervousness........................Mrs. S. E. Merritt
Daisy, her daughter, } both afflicted with
Dolly, her niece......} a disease called love } Misses Elma and Hannah Ball
Dorothy, a maiden aunt, variously afflicted........................Miss Olive Eaton
Betty a maidservant, suffering for Frizzy........................Miss Alice Freeman

The performance was generally excellent. Some of the ladies were not as perfect in elocution as could be wished, and the "make-up" of several of the lady characters showed a rustic ignorance of the proper use of certain cosmetics, in which the fair sex are supposed to be adepts. Still, there were plenty of fresh faces, and so, perhaps, ignorance as to the use of the colors ought to be commended. Mr. Hutman, as the barber, showed some really good acting, and all of the club who took part had evidently been carefully drilled.

THE TROUBADOURS.—The Troubadours will appear again this afternoon and this evening at the Grand Opera House. Those who have a liking for genuine negro melody, and faithful reproduction of plantation scenes and incidents will find the Troubadours entertaining in both performances.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

A Young ex-Angeleno Killed in New Mexico.

Mr. L. N. Breed, who resides at the corner of Fifth and Fort streets, received a telegram at midnight, Thursday, from his brother J. H. Breed, of Winslow, A.T., conveying the sad intelligence that his only son had been killed by a railroad accident that day (Thursday) on his way to Albuquerque, N. M., via the A. and P. R. R. Mr. Breed was seen last evening, but had received no further particulars.

A telegraphic press dispatch received in this office at 12 o'clock last night states that there was a collision between a freight and a passenger train on the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, near Blue Water station, N. M., 108 miles west of Albuquerque. Young Breed was instantly killed; and Morris Barth, another young merchant of Holbrook, A. T., was fatally injured.

Fred. A. Breed, the victim of this tragedy, was well known in this city. He was 22 years of age, and a graduate of Heald's Business College, San Francisco. After leaving that institution he entered the office of Gillette, Gibson & Wood, where he remained for some time, working on abstracts. For we years he h s been engaged in the general merchandise business at Holbrook, Arizona, and is supposed to have been on a trip to purchase supplies at Albuquerque when he met his death. He was married eight months ago to a Miss Bryant of Chico, Cal. Mr. J. H. Breed has gone to take charge of the remains, which will be brought here for burial. They are expected to arrive at Mojave to-morrow night, and the afflicted father will go to meet them there. The death of this promising young man is a stunning blow to his parents, and leaves them but one remaining child—a daughter.

Pretty Correct, for the Express.

The Slow Freight's hobbled brakeman remarks; "The TIMES has the matchless temerity to accuse the Express of making blunders in its carefully prepared article on the suicide of Daniel Drake. The Express' account was absolutely correct, and the real facts only were printed." Well, it was about as absolutely correct as the Depress ever gets, and was true with the following trifling exceptions: Drake did not take the poison "in a glass of beer," as the Express states, nor in anything else, but "straight;" and he drank no beer, but whisky. The two men in the saloon with him were not "Ernest Eberlon and George Glass," but Ernest Eberlin and Geo. Cleiss. They did not "send for an officer and have Drake taken to the police station," but took him there themselves. The barkeeper did not state that he "saw Drake pour the poison into the beer." Drake did not "die in the jail," but on the floor of the police station. The funeral did not "take place from the undertaking parlors of Albert Brown," but from those of McBratney & Howry. The Express did not state where the suicide was committed, nor when it was committed, and got all balled up in trying to tell how it was committed. The reporter did not visit the scene, being too lazy to go farther than the police station. Still, the Express can't be blamed for crowing over its "carefully prepared article"—it seldom gets a thing so straight.

The Improvement of San Pedro Harbor.

Pursuant to a call issued, a citizen's meeting was held at the rooms of the Board of Trade yesterday for the purpose of considering the advisability of appointing a committee to confer with the War Department in relation to the resurvey of the harbor and the carrying out of the Goverment's original intention, which was to erect an outer sea wall, thus making a complete harbor of refuge. The matter was discussed by Dr. Widney, Judge Widney, J. E. Hollenbeck, Mayor Spence, E. Germain and C. W. Gibson and it was finally decided to appoint a committee, the following gentlemen being named: Chairman, A. Kinney, J. E. Hollenbeck, J. P. Widney, H. H. Boyce, Mayor Spence and K. Cohn. The committee will meet in order to decide upon a plan of action Monday next at 2 p. m. at Dr. Widney's office.

To-Day Not a Legal Holiday.

The following statement appeared in last evening's Express:

"To-morrow being Washington's birthday, and a legal holiday, the courts, public offices and a majority of the business houses will be closed."

Several gentlemen called at the TIMES office last evening to correct the statement made by the Express, but it is hardly necessary to correct so palpable an error. Of course, to-day being the 21st, it is not Washington's birthday, and the only question which remains is, whether it should be legally observed Saturday or Monday. The Principal of the Normal School, who has looked up the matter from a legal standpoint, says that it is plainly provided that when any holiday occurs on Sunday the day following shall be legally observed. The postoffice authorities, Wells, Fargo's agent, and two of our bankers, being communicated with, all said that if any day is legally observed it will be Monday. It therefore appears that the statement made by the Express is erroneous, and all the public offices, banks, courts, etc., will be open to-day as usual.

Washington's Birthday at the University.

To-day being legally observed as Washington's Birthday, it will be celebrated at the University of Southern California by a lecture at the University church at 2 P. M. The lecture will be delivered by Rev. E. W. Van Deventer, his subject being "The Men of Our Times." In the evening an entertainment will be given by the literary societies of the University. Cars will be in waiting to carry people to town at the close of the entertainment.

Police Pickings.

John Smith, a "hay-bunker," was arrested for vagrancy yesterday by Officer Keary.

John Marchall, for battery on a fellow-imbiber of "the juice" on Los Angeles street, was fined $5 or five days, by Justice Austin, yesterday.

A bright three-year-old child, named Roe, living on Fort street, was "lost, strayed or stolen" yesterday. Officer Keary found the little rover and took him to his anxious mother.

Covina.

This new town in the "Phillips tract" is filling up rapidly. There is now a good school, two stores, blacksmith shop, livery stable, and a weekly newspaper. The land is selling rapidly in 10 to 20 acre tracts, and only needs to be seen for one to decide what can be produced, and as to a purchase being attended with large profits. We are informed by the agents, Dennis & Cook, that some 50 lots and over 500 acres have already been disposed of.

Once a Year.

The San Diego Union's annual is out, and presents a creditable appearance. It is an illuminated pamphlet of 25 pages, well printed, and full of live information and statistics concerning the interests, industries and prospects of San Diego.

Handsome Improvements.

Two very elegant plate glass show windows are being added to the Diamond House, and additional standing cases of silver and plate glass for the interior are being placed in position.

A New Stock Farm.

Platt Bros. have removed to Florence and started a new stock farm of thoroughbred cattle. They will make it one of the most extensive in the county.

Mr. William R. Nutting, of San Francisco, manager of agencies of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Mr. J. F. Ferris, of Portland, Maine, representing the same company, are in the city. The first stops at the St. Charles and the latter, with his wife, at the St. Elmo. They design re-establishing an agency of the company in Southern California, with headquarters at Los Angeles.

Is This Mr. Riley, Can Anyone Tell?

Just before six o'clock last evening Officer Fletcher found a drunken man near the corner of Third and Fort streets, who proved to be in a serious condition. His neck and throat were gashed in ugly fashion on the right side, and he was bleeding profusely. He was taken to the station, where Dr. Walter Lindley dressed the wounds. A couple of vags, who were with the victim, were arrested on suspicion, but nothing compromising was found on them. They stated that his name was Wm. Riley, but they didn't know how he got hurt; and he was too drunk and faint to talk for himself. One wound was a deep, clean cut below and behind the right ear, terribly close to the carotid artery. The others were unimportant. He will recover.

His 153d Birthday.

Monday, Feb. 24th, will be generally observed as Washington's birthday, by the closing of places of business, etc. Last night the agreement to close for the whole day or a half of it had been signed by about 120 leading firms of the city.

The Eagle Corps, N. G. C., will give a street parade, beginning at 2 P. M., the route taking in the principal thoroughfares; and also an exhibition drill on Los Angeles street, near Commercial.

Electricity and Magnetism the New Means of Cure.

Dr. E. Robbins, the celebrated Australian Electro-Magnetic Healer, Larronde Block, corner First and Spring streets, entrance on First street, after several years' experience in the Australian colonies, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver and two years in this city, has decided to permanently locate here, where he has performed so many wonderful cures without the aid of medicine. His rooms are crowded daily with patients anxious to get the benefit of his power over so-called incurable diseases. Dr. Robbins is patronized by many of our leading citizens. He also diagnoses diseases without explanation from the patients, free of charge, and has fitted up the Institute at considerable expense with Dr. Hoffman & Palmer's celebrated electro-therapeutic bath, which is pronounced by eminent physicians to be the greatest discovery in medical science of modern times; also, other medicated baths, with the latest improvements in electrical instruments for administering Faradic, Galvanic and Static electricity.

IRON SULPHUR SPRINGS.

A Great Health Resort — Iron-Sulphur Water and its Merits—Fine Buildings—A Gushing Spring—Medicinal Baths—Extensive Improvements.

This well-known place is situated about twelve miles south of Los Angeles, and is growing rapidly in reputation as a health resort. Ten years ago Dr. Fulton first brought the medicinal properties of its waters before the public and the analysis of reliable chemists testified to their wonderful qualities. The first enterprise was on a much more moderate scale than the present, but has steadily been enlarged. The public were not attracted by a first taste of the iron-sulphur water, preferring instead the more pleasant lemonade or seductive cocktail, but when its health-giving results were proved every reclaimed invalid became an advertisement which brought other patrons. At that time the Sanitarium was in the midst of a vast, sandy plain, but at the present the extensive buildings are surrounded by towering trees and smiling gardens, with neat school houses, comfortable residences and well-tilled vineyards dotting the landscape.

The Iron Sulphur Springs are now owned by a stock company, of which Dr. Widney is the head, and his popularity is constantly increasing. Recently a new cottage has been erected and a new dining room and kitchen added. The hotel has been elegantly furnished throughout and the interior newly painted and calcimined. Mr. Busey, the gentlemanly clerk, is always in attendance, and by his urbanity insures the comfort of guests and visitors. Dr. Widney is an experienced physician, enthusiastically devoted to the work of the institution and gives his whole time to his labor of love. During the past season forty-six building lots have been sold and the tract is fast becoming an imposing village. Two residences and two stores are now on the avenue which passes the hotel, and other lot buyers are preparing to build. A postoffice and daily mail give the guests the privilege of morning Los Angeles papers and reliable opportunity of communicating with friends. The railroad station, Norwalk, is two miles distant, and the roads to Los Angeles offer an agreeable carriage drive to all visitors. The Hawkins homestead, in the vicinity, is one of the best in the county, and the grounds are elegantly laid out. Just north is the hospitable residence of General Sanford, once the martial brigadier of this militia district, who has surrounded his home with all the attractions of a rural paradiso.

The mountains, viewed from the hotel, are enchanting; the romantic hills, with their numerous cañons, in full view, the snow-capped peaks being a wintry finish to the semi-tropical panorama in the valley. The Iron Sulphur Springs can justly claim a most romantic position. Winter and summer show a remarkably equable temperature, which is demanded by all health-seekers. Its waters, gurgling from the ground, are Mother Earth's great healing panacea, which many visitors pronounce the Fountain of Health. In summer the coolness of the temperature attracts and in winter the warmer currents temper the chill from the mountains. [illegible] becoming a popular winter resort, and every day Eastern visitors may be seen on its sunny verandas, while the habitues of Sierra Madre Villa and Pasadena make frequent calls to imbibe the waters or enjoy the baths. One of the features is the inauguration of a series of select socials, which will take place at intervals during the winter. These will, no doubt, be enjoyable gatherings, as none but members of the most select circles of Los Angeles and vicinity will have the entree.

California's Fruits.

It is evident that California as a fruit-producing State is meeting with more intelligent recognition at the East. The New York Mail and Express has these good words to say of the fruits of California:

"Their grapes are finer than any imported from Spain, and one large yellow variety, remarkable for the length of time it will keep, as well as for its lusciousness, brings $60 a ton for use on ocean steamers. Their pears are as fine as their grapes, and their figs, cherries and plums are unexcelled in the United States, while they profess ability to control the market for apricots and pomegranates. Perhaps their most remarkable boast is that their oranges will soon be finer and more abundant than Messinas and Floridas, for the Florida crop has trebled within a dozen years, and there are millions of trees in that State which now produce the finest oranges in the world. The importation of fruit at this point is nearly $5,000,000 annually, but the increase of orange importation has been checked by the orange growers of Florida, and the introduction of nearly all tropical fruits to culture in California encourages the expectation that the nation will produce almost all the fruit it consumes. The census of 1880 gave the aggregate of the orchard product at $50,876,154, although the crop was below the average, especially in the north, and the growth of the fruit industry in all parts of the Union is rapid. New York still stands at the head of the fruit growing States, but an attempt is to be made to wrest that honor from her, and the developments in progress in California certainly encourage the expectations of Californians that their State will soon reach the second rank. To the sanitarian the increase of our fruit is especially gratifying, as nothing is more conducive to the health of the people than an abundance of fruit."

An Enormous Structure.

[New Orleans Letter.]

The Centennial main hall at Philadelphia was considered an enormous structure, but it is said the Centennial buildings altogether could be easily stored away in the main hall in New Orleans, which covers between thirty and forty acres.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Governments firm, unchanged. At Stock Exchange dealers report good outside demand. Renewed activity in to-day's stock market, accompanied by very decided changes in the course of prices. Market steady at opening, and early dealings gave indication of disposition to hesitate, during which prices fell off slightly. This was quickly followed, however, by an infusion of new life and strength. Before the end of first hour Lackawanna sold above par, a point it had not reached since December 12th, 1884, and nearly everything else on the list was from ¼ to ¾ per cent. above opening quotations. At two o'clock an active selling movement set in which continued until close of Board, and which carried prices to lowest figures of the day and generally from ¼ to 1¾ per cent. lower than they closed last evening.

A Nassau Dog's Service.

Cor. New York Times.]

Nassau dogs are the most fearful and wonderful protections of nature. They have a wistful, hungry look about the eyes, and an all-gone thin appearance about the flanks that gives them an air of feeding on wind, and the air in a dead calm. But we have a dog here on the place that goes a little ahead of anything in the dog line I ever saw. He belongs to the cook, and the boys say they are never sure whether he is a snake or a dog, he is so thin. He is a cur of the currest kind, black and grey, but an affectionate little rascal, and a good watch dog, for he barks at night on the smallest provocation. His name is Jack.

You know down here sponges are as plenty as apples at home. They wash dishes with them, and use them for every imaginable purpose, so there are always bits of old sponge lying about. You might go out in my back yard and pick up half a bushel of them in ten minutes. Well, Jack eats sponges. Of course you will laugh at this; but I pledge my solemn word that I went into the yard one day and saw Jack eating a sponge, and he seemed to enjoy it. No doubt his idea was to cram himself full of sponge, then go off somewhere and take a big drink of water, and thus swell himself out to a respectable, well-fed size. I have respected Jack more ever since.

Dr. Kellogg

CELEBRATED & WORLD-RENOWNED MAGNETIC HEALER,

From New York city, is now at the Pico House, and will remain there for a limited time, curing and healing the various complicated diseases to which the human frame is heir.

Dr. Kellogg has a world-wide reputation for his extraordinary cures of difficult and chronic cases.

He is the miracle of all mortal marvels, and one of the greatest wonders of the Nineteenth century, performing cures which equal, if not surpass, the old time miracles, causing the blind to see, the deaf to hear and the lame to walk.

CONSULTATION FREE, and one hour each day will be devoted expressly to the poor of this city, or those who are unable to procure their own medicine. They will be treated free of charge. The Doctor gives away more medicine than half the others sell. Consultations at office or by mail, free and invited. A friendly talk or opinion costs nothing. When inconvenient to visit the city for treatment, medicines sent by mail or express everywhere, securely packed, free from observation. Curable cases guaranteed; where doubt exists it is frankly stated. Hours 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sundays, 12 to 3.

Nervous Prostration, Debility, Mental and Physical Weakness, Mercurial and other Affections of Throat, Skin and Bones, Blood Impurities and Blood Poisoning, Skin Affections, Old Sores and Ulcers, Impediments to Marriage, Stunted Development, Rheumatism, Malaria. Especial attention to complicated, Difficult, severe and SURGICAL cases. Piles cured WITHOUT USING KNIFE.

Diseases from indiscretion, excess, exposure or indulgence, producing some of the following effects: Nervousness, Debility, Dimness of Sight, Perverted Vision, Defective Memory, Pimples on the Face, Aversion to Society of Females, Want of Pleasure in Life, Want of Ambition, Unfitness to Marry, Melancholy, Dyspepsia, Headache, Restlessness, Loss of Spirits, Pains in the Back, etc., are treated with unparalleled success, safely, privately.

Catarrh, Throat, Nose, Lung Diseases and ASTHMA. Liver Complaints.

It is self-evident that a physician paying particular attention to a class of cases attains great skill, and physicians in regular practice all over the country, knowing this, frequently recommend cases to this oldest office in America, where every known appliance is resorted to, and the proved good remedies of all ages and countries are used. A whole house is used for office purposes, and all are treated with skill in a respectful manner; and, knowing what to do, no experiments are made. On account of the great number of cases applying, the charges are kept low, often lower than is demanded by others. If you secure the skill and get a speedy and perfect life cure, that is the important matter. Leucorrhœa cured in four treatments. It is the most troublesome disease known to the female sex.

Cancer Cured without pain and speedily. No cutting done.

Tapeworm removed or no charge. Many persons suffer greatly from the effects of tapeworm who doctor for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nervous Prostration, Palpitation of the Heart and a Dry Cough, in consequence of the parasite irritating the throat.

THE SYMPTOMS OF TAPEWORM

Are characterized by restlessness at night, sickness of the stomach, vomiting, convulsions, epileptic fits, faintness, stupor, loss of memory, gnawing sensation in the stomach, pains in the side and back, dry cough, a voracious appetite at one time and a loathing of food at another, a choking sensation when lying down, disagreeable breath, face flushed, nose contracted, heaviness of the eyes, bad digestion, stomach bloated at times, emaciation of the body and great nervous debility and dizziness of the head. Some persons may have all the above symptoms while others only have a part of them, and some will have a tapeworm for a long time, and yet never pass any joints or pieces, which is the only positive evidence of its existence. During a residence of eight years in New York city he

Cured Over 6000 Patients,

A large portion of whom had previously been given over by ordinary practitioners as incurable. His system of treatment is peculiar to himself; by it the vital forces become equalized; no pain is caused; no poisonous medicine given, and no surgical operation performed. The most hopeless cases taken and cured after all else has failed.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Can take a tapeworm in two hours complete. Will prove to you, free of charge, as to whether you are afflicted with tapeworm or not. No charge for first lot of medicine.

Do not fail to visit Dr. Kellogg,

"The Wonder,"

After all others have failed to cure you.

The most obstinate diseases succumb to the Doctor's unlimited skill.

My diploma hangs on my office wall for inspection of patients. Patients will find the Doctor a gentleman, socially as well as professionally.

THE ANTELOPE VALLEY.

The New Oasis on the Edge of the Mojave Desert.

Several readers having addressed the TIMES for information regarding the Antelope Valley, a reporter has been pursuing the desired facts, and hands them over herewith.

The valley is situated about due north of Los Angeles, and is distant about thirty-five miles in a straight line. By rail, however, it is about eighty miles from this point, owing to the enormous elbow made by the railroad to get through the Soledad Cañon. The main line of the S. P. R. R. runs through the valley from north to south, Lancaster being the chief station therein. The dimensions of the valley are about forty miles east and west, and about twenty-five north and south. The valley is a natural basin, without outlet, and with several sizable streams emptying into it, where they disappear. The Piute Indians have a legend that when their forefathers dwelt around the edges of the valley, the center was occupied by a great lake—and this was in all probability true at one time. The valley now seems to be underlaid with abundant water. Mr. M. L. Wicks of this city, who has purchased extensively in the valley, states that he can take ten sections of land in one spot and get water anywhere thereon by sinking six feet. He also states that the average depth of the surface wells in the valley is 24 feet. The deepest is 140 feet: and there are many of only 4 feet. Upon the sloping sides of the valley the soil is deeper—in some places 30 and 40 feet before striking hard-pan, and the wells are necessarily deeper than those in the lower valley. Still, water is procurable everywhere by wells of moderate depth. There are seven artesian wells in the valley, and this number will increase rapidly. One can be put down complete for between $300 and $400. The last artesian well put down by Mr. Wicks is 235 feet in depth, with double iron casing, yields 400,000 gallons every twenty-four hours, and cost $371, including $20 for extra pumping to remove sand. This well lies in the bottom of the valley, six miles due west of Lancaster. Three miles west of it, again, Dr. Joseph Kurtz of this city is having an artesian well sunk upon his place—which covers one and a half sections of railroad and one and a half sections of Government land. Drs. DeSzigethy and Reed, Mr. D. McFarland, and other Angeleños also have extensive interests in the valley. Mr. McFarland raised there, last season, the finest wheat the reporter has ever seen anywhere, and this in spite of the fact that rust was prevalent in the wheat almost everywhere else.

Among the settlements which are rapidly springing up in the valley may be mentioned the Iowa colony of six families, located twenty-five miles west from the railroad and adjoining the Lievre Rancho of ex-Surveyor-General Beal, the Yorkshire (English) colony of fift persons, and a Scotch colony near this The good lands are by no means all taken. Much fine government land is now available, previous claims having been canceled for non-compliance. There are 6000 acres of good land, as yet untouched, 6 miles east by south from Lancaster. In the Wild Horse prairie there are many thousand more. An irrigating ditch with a capacity of 8000 acres is now being brought out into the latter tract. Absolute right for water is sold at $4 per acre. There is sufficient irrigating water now running into the valley to supply 40,000 acres; and there are many springs in the hills to the east.

As noted in the TIMES not long ago, there is a movement on foot to bring an irrigating ditch into the valley from Elizabeth Lake. The price of railroad land in the valley is from $2.50 to $6 per acre. Southeast and southwest of Lancaster lies a large area of unsurveyed government land, furnishing ample pasturage, with surface water. On the mountains which wall the valley on the southwest is abundant pine timber. There is also plenty on the Tehachepi range, which is the north boundary of the valley. There is a saw-mill in the latter vicinity, 16 miles from the Yorkshire colony, where lumber can be bought at $16 per M. In the valley there is plenty of fuel in the shape of black sage and cedar, while the cañons furnish pine. Antelope and wild horses are seen in large bands, and two men claim to have killed twenty-seven deer in four days at Christmas time. All fruits save the citrus do finely, and all grains are remarkably successful. Mr. Cole, son of ex-United States Senator Cornelius Cole, states that his olive trees have made unprecedented progress there.

The general altitude of the valley is something over 2,000 feet, and the temperature is said to average about ten degrees colder, the year round, than that of Los Angeles. Jesse Hunter, who has been in that vicinity for sixteen years, states that the annual rainfall is somewhat heavier than in this city. Only one fog has been known there in three years.

The foregoing information having been given, the best authority for interested parties to consult is to go and look for themselves.

THE DOORSTEP DARLING.

A Grass-Widow's Heartless Desertion of Her Young Babe.

The abandoned boy baby found Thursday morning upon the doorstep Mr. H. T. Payne (and not on that of Rev. A. J. Wells, as mistakenly reported,) has had its little mystery unraveled sooner than was expected.

About a month ago a handsome young woman giving her name as Mrs. Leal engaged accommodations at the private boarding-house of Mrs. M. Hatfield, 338 Hill street, stating that her husband was a traveling salesman in Arizona and would be here soon. Her mother soon took quarters with her. Mrs. Leal said that she was 23 years of age, but she looked younger. She was approaching confinement, and engaged a Mrs. Lamb as nurse. The babe was born and flourished, and the mother recuperated, but the father did not put in an appearance. It is stated by occupants of the house that Mrs. Leal's actions while there were a trifle odd, and that some suspected that she wished to rid herself of the child. Wednesday Mrs. Leal stated that she was going with her mother and babe to Arizona next day to join her husband; and that they would leave the house early in the morning, as they had been invited out to breakfast. She went out shopping with Mrs. Hatfield that afternoon, and purchased a blanket at Hale's "to wrap the Baby Bunting in." Next morning (Thursday) Mrs. Leal and her mother departed early, with the baby. A few hours later, Mrs. Hatfield noticed the item in the TIMES; and having her suspicions aroused, went over with Mrs. Lamb (the nurse) to see the foundling. They recognized the child at once as the Leal baby, and the blanket as that purchased by Mrs. Leal. The recreant mother, however, appears to have been a little foxy. A letter has been received by Mrs. Lamb from her, mailed after leaving this city, stating that she was getting along well, and that the baby stood the trip all right, was doing very nicely and behaving well. But this clever "blind" did not fool anyone. The child was given over by Mr. Petry—who found it—to his sister-in-law, who is already much attached to it, and vows it shall never leave her save for the cemetery.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The amateur dramatic entertainment given by the Pasadena Dramatic Club last evening at the Grand Opera House attracted an audience which filled the building to overflowing, the audience being one of the largest that has ever assembled to witness an entertainment in this city. The play was the Afflicted Family, which was presented with the following cast:

C. Crochet, a retired merchant, sick in the spleen.......................L. C. Hawkey
B. Frizzy, a barber, addicted to pains and scrapes.............................Louis Hutman
Dr. G. Linton, a physician, troubled with patients..............................C. B. Ripley
L. Staple, a bashful young merchant.......................F. Bruce Wetherby
Clarence, a student, inclined to all.......................J. D. Ripley
John Henry, a servant with nothing to do.......................Will C. Defriez
J. Seezer, a constable, used to taking bad effects.......................James Clark
Mrs. Crochet, an invalid with nervousness.......................Mrs. S. E. Merritt
Daisy, her daughter, Dolly, her neice } both afflicted with a disease called love } Misses Elma and Hannah Ball
Dorothy, a maiden aunt, variously afflicted.......................Miss Olive Eaton
Betty a maidservant, suffering for Frizzy.......................Miss Alice Freeman

The performance was generally excellent. Some of the ladies were not as perfect in elocution as could be wished, and the "make-up" of several of the lady characters showed a rustic ignorance of the proper use of certain cosmetics, in which the fair sex are supposed to be adepts. Still, there were plenty of fresh faces, and so, perhaps, ignorance as to the use of the colors ought to be commended. Mr. Hutman, as the barber, showed some really good acting, and all of the club who took part had evidently been carefully drilled.

THE TROUBADOURS.—The Troubadours will appear again this afternoon and this evening at the Grand Opera House. Those who have a liking for genuine negro melody, and faithful reproduction of plantation scenes and incidents will find the Troubadours entertaining in both performances.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

A Young ex-Angeleno Killed in New Mexico.

Mr. L. N. Breed, who resides at the corner of Fifth and Fort streets, received a telegram at midnight, Thursday, from his brother J. H. Breed, of Winslow, A.T., conveying the sad intelligence that his only son had been killed by a railroad accident that day (Thursday) on his way to Albuquerque, N. M., via the A. and P. R. R. Mr. Breed was seen last evening, but had received no further particulars.

A telegraphic press dispatch received in this office at 12 o'clock last night states that there was a collision between a freight and a passenger train on the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, near Blue Water station, N. M., 108 miles west of Albuquerque. Young Breed was instantly killed; and Morris Barth, another young merchant of Holbrook, A. T., was fatally injured.

Fred. A. Breed, the victim of this tragedy, was well known in this city. He was 22 years of age, and a graduate of Heald's Business College, San Francisco. After leaving that institution he entered the office of Gillette, Gibson & Wood, where he remained for some time, working on abstracts. For we years he h s been engaged in the general merchandise business at Holbrook, Arizona, and is supposed to have been on a trip to purchase supplies at Albuquerque when he met his death. He was married eight months ago to a Miss Bryant of Chico, Cal. Mr. J. H. Breed has gone to take charge of the remains, which will be brought here for burial. They are expected to arrive at Mojave to-morrow night, and the afflicted father will go to meet them there. The death of this promising young man is a stunning blow to his parents, and leaves them but one remaining child—a daughter.

Pretty Correct, for the Express.

The Slow Freight's hobbled brakeman remarks; "The TIMES has the matchless temerity to accuse the Express of making blunders in its carefully prepared article on the suicide of Daniel Drake. The Express' account was absolutely correct, and the real facts only were printed." Well, it was about as absolutely correct as the Depress ever gets, and was true with the following trifling exceptions: Drake did not take the poison "in a glass of beer," as the Express states, nor in anything else, but "straight;" and he drank no beer, but whisky. The two men in the saloon with him were not "Ernest Eberlon and George Glass," but Ernest Eberlin and Geo. Cleiss. They did not "send for an officer and have Drake taken to the police station," but took him there themselves. The barkeeper did not state that he "saw Drake pour the poison into the beer." Drake did not "die in the jail," but on the floor of the police station. The funeral did not "take place from the undertaking parlors of Albert Brown," but from those of McBratney & Howry. The Express did not state where the suicide was committed, nor when it was committed, and got all balled up in trying to tell how it was committed. The reporter did not visit the scene, being too lazy to go farther than the police station. Still, the Express can't be blamed for crowing over its "carefully prepared article"—it seldom gets a thing so straight.

The Improvement of San Pedro Harbor.

Pursuant to a call issued, a citizen's meeting was held at the rooms of the Board of Trade yesterday for the purpose of considering the advisability of appointing a committee to confer with the War Department in relation to the resurvey of the harbor and the carrying out of the Goverment's original intention, which was to erect an outer sea wall, thus making a complete harbor of refuge. The matter was discussed by Dr. Widney, Judge Widney, J. E. Hollenbeck, Mayor Spence, E. Germain and C. W. Gibson and it was finally decided to appoint a committee, the following gentlemen being named: Chairman, A. Kinney, J. E. Hollenbeck, J. P. Widney, H. H. Boyce, Mayor Spence and K. Cohn. The committee will meet in order to decide upon a plan of action Monday next at 2 p. m. at Dr. Widney's office.

To-Day Not a Legal Holiday.

The following statement appeared in last evening's Express:

"To-morrow being Washington's birthday, and a legal holiday, the courts, public offices and a majority of the business houses will be closed."

Several gentlemen called at the TIMES office last evening to correct the statement made by the Express, but it is hardly necessary to correct so palpable an error. Of course, to-day being the 21st, it is not Washington's birthday, and the only question which remains is, whether it should be legally observed Saturday or Monday. The Principal of the Normal School, who has looked up the matter from a legal standpoint, says that it is plainly provided that when any holiday occurs on Sunday the day following shall be legally observed. The postoffice authorities, Wells, Fargo's agent, and two of our bankers, being communicated with, all said that if any day is legally observed it will be Monday. It therefore appears that the statement made by the Express is erroneous, and all the public offices, banks, courts, etc., will be open to-day as usual.

Washington's Birthday at the University.

To day being legally observed as Washington's Birthday, it will be celebrated at the University of Southern California by a lecture at the University church at 2 P. M. The lecture will be delivered by Rev. E. W. Van Deventer, his subject being "The Men of Our Times." In the evening an entertainment will be given by the literary societies of the University. Cars will be in waiting to carry people to town at the close of the entertainment.

Police Pickings.

John Smith, a "hay-bunker," was arrested for vagrancy yesterday by Officer Keary.

John Marchall, for battery on a fellow-imbiber of "the juice" on Los Angeles street, was fined $5 or five days, by Justice Austin, yesterday.

A bright three-year-old child named Roe, living on Fort street, was "lost, strayed or stolen" yesterday. Officer Keary found the little rover and took him to his anxious mother.

Covina.

This new town in the "Phillips tract" is filling up rapidly. There is now a good school, two stores, blacksmith shop, livery stable, and a weekly newspaper. The land is selling rapidly in 10 to 20 acre tracts, and only needs to be seen for one to decide what can be produced, and as to a purchase being attended with large profits. We are informed by the agents, Dennis & Cook, that some 50 lots and over 500 acres have already been disposed of.

Once a Year.

The San Diego Union's annual is out, and presents a creditable appearance. It is an illuminated pamphlet of 25 pages, well printed, and full of live information and statistics concerning the interests, industries and prospects of San Diego.

Handsome Improvements.

The first stops at the St. Charles and the latter, with his wife, at the St. Elmo. They design re-establishing an agency of the company in Southern California, with headquarters at Los Angeles.

Is This Mr. Riley, Can Anyone Tell?

Just before six o'clock last evening Officer Fletcher found a drunken man near the corner of Third and Fort streets, who proved to be in a serious condition. His neck and throat were gashed in ugly fashion on the right side, and he was bleeding profusely. He was taken to the station, where Dr. Walter Lindley dressed the wounds. A couple of vags, who were with the victim, were arrested on suspicion, but nothing compromising was found on them. They stated that his name was Wm. Riley, but they didn't know how he got hurt; and he was too drunk and faint to talk for himself. One wound was a deep, clean cut below and behind the right ear, terribly close to the carotid artery. The others were unimportant. He will recover.

Electricity and Magnetism the New Means of Cure.

Dr. E. Robbins, the celebrated Australian Electro-Magnetic Healer, Larronde Block, corner First and Spring streets, entrance on First street, after several years' experience in the Australian colonies, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver and two years in this city, has decided to permanently locate here, where he has performed so many wonderful cures without the aid of medicine. His rooms are crowded daily with patients anxious to get the benefit of his power over so-called incurable diseases. Dr. Robbins is patronized by many of our leading citizens. He also diagnoses diseases without explanation from the patients, free of charge, and has fitted up the Institute at considerable expense with Dr. Hoffman & Palmer's celebrated electro-therapeutic bath, which is pronounced by eminent physicians to be the greatest discovery in medical science of modern times; also other medicated baths, with the latest improvements in electrical instruments for administering Faradic, Galvanic and Static electricity.
